It's probably hard to believe for kids growing up now...

There was a time when climbing trees (as high as you could possibly go) was normal... and holding on to a fast spinning clothes line (the old steel Hills Hoist type) was a rite of passage for any kid growing up in Australia.

That's when Moduplay was born. Way back in 1989.

In one generation we've gone from that daring behaviour to kids being content to play on a screen, almost endlessly.

Australia... We need to bring back PLAY!

We are proud to be an Australian owned company, making quality products in Australia that are designed to withstand Australia's harsh climate.

But much more than that, they are designed to help our kids learn through play as they grow into active, creative and contributing members of our great country.
